

Experienced Leadership

Dennis is a seasoned prosecutor and conservative Republican with over 28 years of legal experience, currently serving as Yavapai County Attorney after years as Chief Deputy. He's also a Lieutenant Colonel in the Arizona Army National Guard, receiving accolades for his service and playing a key role in establishing the Veterans Court. Alongside his legal and military roles, Dennis is deeply committed to community service, teaching at NARTA, serving on committees like the Arizona State Bar Criminal Rules Committee, and being active in his church. He's received numerous awards, including the Lifetime Achievement Award from APAAC and the Jack Ogg Community Service Award. With a J.D. from Indiana University and admission to the United States Supreme Court, Dennis is a respected figure in both legal and military circles, known for his integrity and dedication to public service.

What Dennis stands for:

Law and Order - Police are the first line of defense against criminal activity. As your County Attorney, I will work tirelessly to make sure that law enforcement has the backing it needs to protect you and me.

Enforce the Law - California-style "criminal justice" leaves felons on the street and erodes trust in our neighbors. As your chief prosecutor, my job is to put criminals away, not play "woke" politics.

Fighting Drug Crime - Protecting our communities from the scourge of Fentanyl should be a priority for any public official. Cracking down on organized crime and pushing for harsh sentences on drug dealing will cut the flow of drugs to our County.

Protect the Second Amendment - Progressive lawyers have made a game of coming after our rights. We have a constitutional right to bear arms, and as the County's top attorney, I will defend that right against legal and political challenges.
