

Bio for Atty Terry Schuster

Originally from the Midwest, Terry and his wife, Marylou, have lived in Prescott for the last seven years. Attorney Schuster practices law providing representation of and legal consultation to private businesses, educational institutions, and federal and state entities. Terry also provides managerial training and human resources consultation to all types of employers in Arizona. As a professor, Terry has taught law, management, human resources and ethics at various colleges and universities and currently teaches at Embry-Riddle University in the business department. Terry and his wife are avid pickleball players, trail riders and are very active in community activities.